New! EyeDetect+ is Legally Compliant Worldwide

I'm happy to announce EyeDetect+, which is a combination of EyeDetect and a newly released device called Physio Tracker. Using EyeDetect+, tests can be legally administered now in all 50 states and other countries.

Why? EyeDetect+ gathers the same physiological data as a standard polygraph instrument—cardiovascular, respiration and electrodermal activity. Physio Tracker allows EyeDetect to comply with long-standing statutes in the 17 states and District of Columbia where the legal definition of "lie detector" refers to traditional polygraph channels. In other countries, such as Mexico, the federal government has a similar law.

Simply put, EyeDetect+ is another major break-through for the credibility assessment industry.

EyeDetect test administrators can monitor these data along with ocular motor measurements in real time using EyeDetect Manager. Plus, with the Physio Tracker, safe social distancing between the test administrator and EyeDetect can be maintained.

For more information about EyeDetect+, please read the press release.

EyeDetect Remote Training Popular

With the need for social distancing, we held a Standard & Advanced Training class online on April 21-23 and again on May 5-7. Demand exceeded expectations with more than 100 registered for each session. Attendees from 20 countries participated. From this training, 54 have passed certification tests. Converus now has over 1,000 certified customers and service partners worldwide.

Due to the popularity of training, we've scheduled the next session for June 9-11. To register for Standard and Advanced EyeDetect Training, click here. The training is free.
