EyeDetect+ Receives New Product-of-the-Year Award from Security Today Magazine

Hi,

As further confirmation EyeDetect+ is an ideal technology solution for U.S. security companies, it was recently awarded the New Product-of-the-Year Award by Security Today magazine in the category of Employee Screening. Read the press release.

The magazine's editor-in-chief called EyeDetect+ one of the "solutions that will impact end users' safety and security" since it's ideal for screening job candidates and conducting investigations.

There are a few reasons why EyeDetect+ is an invaluable tool for U.S. security companies:

1. Fast – EyeDetect+ takes 30 minutes to screen applicants and 15 minutes to conduct investigative tests on suspects, with results ready in 5 minutes.
2. Affordable - EyeDetect+ costs a fraction of other lie detection methods.
3. Accurate – EyeDetect+ is 88% accurate, which puts it at the top of its class for applicant screening.
4. COVID-19 Compliant – Because EyeDetect+ is a minimal-contact, automated computer-based test, it allows security firms to maintain safe social distancing while testing.

Converus is currently offering U.S. security firms a free test drive of the technology. For more information, email us or call 801.331.8840. Ask for Adam Johnson in sales.

The eyes don't lie®

In other news, the EyeDetect tagline — "The eyes don't lie" — is now a registered service mark. EyeDetect is the first credibility assessment method that detects deception by analyzing involuntary eye behavior. Read the press release.

Kudos Mark Handler!

Congratulations to our very own Mark Handler who received the Leonarde Keeler Award from the American Polygraph Association "for long and distinguished service to the polygraph profession." Mark is currently our director of professional services and serves as our resident polygraph expert. Read the press release.
